

Musica Antigua de Toledo

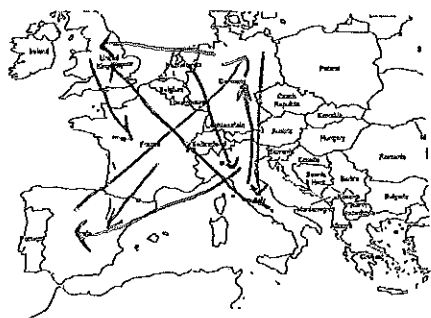

2024-25 Concert Season

Concert I: European Musical Travelers

November 17, 2024 3:30 pm

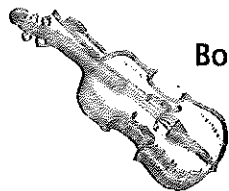

Medieval, renaissance and baroque composers and musicians frequently moved from place to place throughout Europe to obtain more prominent jobs in the best courts and churches throughout Europe. Some went to study with others more preeminent, then returned to their homeland, some moved from one prominent position to another, and some remained permanently in their new country. They would spread their native musical styles to the new lands, adopt the styles of the new land, or return to their homeland and spread the newly adopted styles. Thus, music that originated in one area was spread and intermingled with others throughout Europe. Today's concert explores some of these composers and how music spread from one area to another.

Concert II: Suites, Songs and Sonatas

May 4, 2025 3:30 pm

Without having a specific theme, this concert will explore favorite works from medieval through baroque eras. Suites are groupings of dances, spanning all three periods, as do solo songs, while the sonata is a predominant instrumental form that began in the early baroque and evolved through the late baroque and still until today. We will offer examples of all of these forms and their development through these periods.

Both concerts will take place at All Saints Lutheran Church
5445 Heatherdowns Blvd. (West of Reynolds)

Freewill Offering

Donations go to instrument purchases and maintenance, music and marketing costs.